

Minimal Land Use for Feed Storage

"We use tower silos for most of our feed storage. Benefits we find with tower silos include; good feed quality, very minimal feed loss and the feed stays cool in the warm weather. Tower silos don't take up a lot of ground space, therefore we are able to keep our feed operation in a smaller area. The ease of filling the silos enables us to do it ourselves with the help of our regular farm employees in between their routine dairy work. Doing the harvesting ourselves also enables us to achieve the maximum yields and nutrition of our crops which also benefits our herd."
